

Interdisciplinary Leadership Minor and Certificate

The Department of Educational Leadership and Policy Studies offers one undergraduate interdisciplinary minor (18 hours) and one interdisciplinary certificate (9 hours) in Leadership.

INTERDISCIPLINARY LEADERSHIP MINOR

The Interdisciplinary Leadership Minor (ILM) program is ideal for those seeking to address diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) issues and enact social change through leadership. The courses are designed to increase students' competencies for individual and collective social reflection, analysis, skill development, and action. Regardless of a student's academic major, this minor seeks to engage career readiness strategies to prepare students for relational, ethical, and global leadership across multiple disciplines, workplaces, and communities. The 18-hour Interdisciplinary Leadership Minor is open to all degree-seeking students.
