

Minor in Psychology

About This Program

The Minor in General Psychology provides students the opportunity to deepen their understanding of foundational concepts and broaden their knowledge across various areas of the field. This minor can complement virtually any field of study and is particularly valuable in careers such as business, healthcare, education, law, and social services, where understanding human behavior is key to success. Additionally, it provides a strong base for those considering graduate studies in psychology or related disciplines, making it a beneficial choice for both personal growth and professional development.

The Psychology Minor comprises 18 credit hours or more in Psychology (PSYC) courses. 9 of the 18 hours must be completed at UT Arlington. Six of the 9 hours must be 3000-4000 level. A 2.0 grade point average (calculated only by the PSYC courses you take in residency) must be maintained in the minor.
