

Minor in Substance Use and Treatment

About This Program

The Minor in Substance Use Treatment (SUT) employs a multidisciplinary approach to understanding the biological, psychological, and social, aspects of substance misuse, gambling, and related behaviors. Assessment and treatment methods are based on evidence-informed practices to enable students and future professionals to understand and treat individuals, families, groups, and communities. The courses prepare graduates for careers in substance use treatment and related fields.

Competencies

1. Upon completion of SUT/SOCW 3315 students will be able to Identify, describe, compare, and evaluate theories and models of substance use, misuse, and addiction.
2. Upon completion of SUT/SOCW 2302 students will be able to explain development across the lifespan so as to better understand substance use at different stages of development.
3. Upon completion of SUT/SOCW 3305, students will be able to use empathy and other interpersonal skills toward developing a mutually agreed-on focus of work
4. Upon completion of SUT 3318, students will be able to collect, organize, and interpret client data as part of the screening, assessment, and engagement processes toward developing a treatment plan for the client.
5. Upon completion of SUT 3319 and SUT 3321, students will be able to develop and implement a treatment plan.
