

Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy

About This Program

Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy majors study many of the most fundamental questions of our existence and how to think more effectively about them. Through exploring the history of ideas and the structures of good argumentation, philosophy majors develop high-level reading, writing, and critical thinking skills.

Competencies

1. Upon completion, students will be able to construct and critically assess complex philosophical arguments.
2. Upon completion, students will demonstrate an understanding of the central figures and main problems in the history of philosophy.
3. Upon completion, students will demonstrate an understanding of the central figures and main problems in "systematic" areas of philosophy — such as, ethics, metaphysics, epistemology, etc.
4. Upon completion, students will display knowledge of philosophical methods of analysis.
5. Upon completion, students will be able to read philosophical texts with care and comprehension.
6. Upon completion, students will be able to write clear, effective, and thoughtful philosophical prose.
7. Upon completion, students will demonstrate proficiency in the research skills necessary for successfully completing the philosophy degree.

Admissions Criteria

Students should have completed 30 hours of core with 30 hours at UT Arlington, or 40 hours of core with 12 hours at UT Arlington with an overall GPA greater than 2.0. Before being accepted into the major in philosophy, students must also have passed a course in symbolic logic or critical thinking (PHIL 2311 (<https://catalog.uta.edu/search/?P=PHIL%202311>) Logic or PHIL 1301 (<https://catalog.uta.edu/search/?P=PHIL%201301>) Fundamentals of Reasoning or the equivalent). Students may be accepted as pre-philosophy majors if the above standards are not met.

Curriculum

Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy students are required to take Introduction to Philosophy and either Logic or Fundamentals of Reasoning. They must also take at least one course in the area of Metaphysics & Epistemology, one course in the area of Value Theory, and two courses in the History of Philosophy. Students have a wide variety of options so that they can study the areas of philosophy they find most fascinating.
