

RN to Master of Science in Nursing (Nursing Education) Fast Track

About this Program

The RN to Master of Science in Nursing (Nursing Education) is designed for licensed registered nurses who wish to earn a BSN and continue their education immediately to a Master of Science in Nursing (MSN) in Education. Upon graduation, students are prepared to launch a successful career as a nurse educator in academic or healthcare settings.

Students who have successfully met the criteria for the RN-MSN undergraduate portion of the program, will be allowed to take two designated graduate courses that can be used to replace 6 hours of upper-division electives in the BSN program. The 6 hours of graduate courses will be counted toward both degrees.
